

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

by Jacques Poitras - M0000947 - poitras8491@rogers.com

Good day to all,

Let's start by wishing everyone a happy and healthy 2023. I hope you were able to enjoy some quiet time with friends and families during the holidays. The start of a new year means new resolutions. I hope you included a few resolutions around your collecting interest. Attending a meeting, submitting an article, providing materials for our auction, and acquiring lots from the club auction are all good resolutions and easy to accomplish during the year. Let's hope you will be able to find that missing item from your collection.

We had a good last quarter with meetings in Montreal and Nova Scotia, the excitement of finding the $100 coupon (series S35), the hunt for the 100th anniversary die cast to name a few.

As for the election, once again, no election is required since leadership positions were not contested. I would like to thank those who are no longer offering to serve. Your years of service on the executive committee have been greatly appreciated and we wish you the best. We are also happy to report new members have joined the executive committee. Hope to count on your contribution for many years. We still have a few open positions. Check on page 2 for the updated listing and let me know if you are interested in serving the club.

You will recall, in the last issue, there was an article on the increase in membership rates. The new rates are effective January 1st, so if you have not renewed yet, you will need to pay the new rates (see page 2 membership section for details).

January is now here, and the Montreal meeting will kick off the year. Special thanks to Steve Playter who worked with Trajan publishing (Canadian Coin News) and was able to post information about our up-coming meeting in Montreal. This small advertisement will promote our up-coming events, a good way to remind the numismatic community we are still very active, even if coupons are harder to get. To encourage members to attend, we are adding a live auction to the meeting. 20 items will be put up for sale, and they are listed on page 8 of this newsletter. If you have items you would like to auction off, contact Jerome Fourre. If you cannot attend the meeting, Jerome will accept your bids. We would like to maintain a live auction at the meetings and promote them via the newsletter. Therefore, lot information needs to be available early so we can add them in the newsletter. Keep in mind, the 15th of the previous month is the deadline for submitting information.

We have not confirmed a meeting in February at Torex. A year ago, attendance was low for the meeting and the ONA meeting in September did not attract many either. We will review the schedule of shows in the Toronto region and see what is more convenient for members. The ONA will have their convention at the same time our next newsletter is scheduled to be released. Watch the Facebook page for more information or contact your area director for information as we get closer to the date.

As we start planning for our next meetings, I would like to know what presentations you would like to see at some of our major events such as the ONA meeting in April and our annual meeting in Kingston. Those presentations can also be used for local meetings after. Please let me know your expectations and I will work with the education committee to meet the needs. The RCNA meeting will be held in Halifax. Stew and the local members are working on a schedule for that meeting, and you will not want to miss that meeting. The group did a great job in 2016 and they are eager to raise the bar once again.

I hope you will find time to share information on your findings and research in our next newsletter. Find the time to attend one of the meetings and buy-sell-trade while seeing your collector friends. Hope to see you there.

Stay safe and healthy,

Jacques Poitras

2022 IN REVIEW

by Jacques Poitras - M0000947 - poitras8491@rogers.com

2022 can be summarized as a recovery from 2 years of COVID but remains risky for many. With more people vaccinated, quicker reactions from government authorities to react to new variants, our ways to deal with sanitary habits and social distancing, the feeling appears safer. However, the risk remains, and we certainly do not go back to lockdown days.

Meetings

In total, we had 9 meetings, Torex in February, Montreal in April, September and November, the RCNA meeting in July, our Kingston meeting in August, the ONA meeting in September and Nova Scotia meetings in September and November. Attendance at Torex and ONA has been below expectations, hopefully 2023 will attract more members to those events.

Newsletter

For a few issues, we struggle to get enough material to fill our regular 24 pages newsletter. The July issue contained more pages, but the other 3 issues were 20 pages or less. The good news, the quality of our newsletter remained excellent with a variety of articles and discoveries. The article on the next page provides more information on the newsletter. Congratulations to Stew Cameron for winning the Thayer Bouck Research Award.

Auctions

Thanks to Doug Adams for once again spending countless hours in preparing the club's auctions. We had our usual four quarterly auctions with 910 lots. Special thanks to all those who provided material for the benefit of colleagues. It is a cost-effective option to dispose of your duplicates, knowing they are finding new homes among passionate collectors.

Outlook

We are fortunate to rely on dedicated members to provide material for our newsletter, and coordinate meetings and other special events. As of today, we have 11 meetings lined-up with hopefully a few more to be added as we move along. Some of the later dates could change as meeting rooms have not been confirmed. We would like to get back to a dozen activities or more this year and we hope to see you at some of these events.

Auctions remain a key item for our club and the members. We will explore the opportunity to do another Club Donation Auction towards the end of the year. As a new feature, the Montreal meetings will also have a regular live auction during the meeting.

The Corporation celebrates the 100th anniversary. A few special items are for us collectors. We hope to see a few more unique items being issued. Keep an eye open and share with us.

I'M TRULY SORRY BUT THE DAY HAS COME!

by Jerome Fourre : jerome4e@gmail.com and Doug Adams : adamsdoug@rogers.com

Canadian Tire has not been issuing their iconic paper money since the beginning of the pandemic in March of 2020. This was the perfect way for them to finally put a stop to that program without having customers throwing a hissyfit.

Personally, I am truly sorry that they did stop the greatest loyalty program that ever existed.

In today's market the corporation could not possibly continue with the coupon program because as all of us know, with computers doing the work, the information that can be gathered (mined) by using their Triangle Rewards program is priceless in today's market, and the only way that they can stay competitive.

Since Canadian Tire started their "Cash Bonus" program in 1958, when cash was preferred to credit, the corporation has printed a literal ton of notes. And us collectors will continue to seek out the notes we are missing to finish our collections even if they are no longer being issued!

The table below shows only the Gas Bar and Store series from 1958 to 2019. It does not take into account all of the specialized notes that were printed over the last 60+ years.

There was a total of:

Gas Bar notes in 16 different denominations 60,617,100 issued

Store notes in 7 different denominations 1,786,748,000 issued

1,847,365,100

For a total of:

$13,419,981.00

$341,025,160.00

Grand total $354,445,141.00

2022 NEWSLETTER IN REVIEW

by Jacques Poitras - M0000947 - poitras8491@rogers.com

As we start the new year, it is time to set new goals and objectives and have a look back at the previous year. A review of the 2022 newsletters shows:

- Total of 84 pages in our 4 editions
- Articles from 12 different contributors (see below)
- 15 research articles and 1 testimonial article
- 51 discoveries published
- 71 new gift cards identified
- 11 different members submitted one of the 51 classified ads last year.

Our regular club auction had a total of 910 lots where 63.5% (578) lots changed hands.

Thank You to everyone who contributes for the benefit of our club and our membership. Discoveries, auctions and classified are a great way to help our colleagues in their search for missing items in their collections.

WINDSOR REGIONAL COIN AND COLLECTABLE CLUB PRESENTATION

by Stew Cameron – M0000838 – scotiatechstew@gmail.com

I was invited by President Jim Galley, of the Windsor Regional Coin and Collectable Club, to give a presentation on CTC Collecting; on the evening of October 12, 2022. There were 10 members in attendance.

I was accompanied by my wife Margaret, member 1059, who helped with setup, provided information to the members, encouraged membership, and watched over the display tables for me.

I thanked Jim, also a member (1115) of the CTCC, for the opportunity to speak to his members about our club and CTC Collecting.

I provided a few facts about myself, when I joined, that I was one of the directors for the Atlantic region and some of the awards that I had received. I mentioned that I was a collector of CTC notes, all types, die-cast vehicles, gift cards, CTC pins and other CTC Memorabilia. I explained that I was at their meeting; to broaden their awareness and knowledge of CTC collecting.

First, I elaborated on the CTC notes including gas bar, starting in 1958, stores, starting in 1961, Lubritorium, running from 1962 - 1969, Simard, issued in 1964, 1967 and 1969-70, and Montcalm, 1972, 1974, 1982 and 1987, the last two types only available in Quebec. I explained that even with the stoppage of printing notes, they are still available through other collectors, auctions and EBay. Also, don't forget about that elusive "shoebox" full that people tell you they have. CTC notes have always been known as, "The Other Canadian Currency" and you can still spend them at the CTC stores.

Next, I spoke on the die-cast vehicles and that there were about 15 different groups they could collect. I named a few: store series 1 - 6, anniversary issues, PartSource, Jump Start and Grand Openings. I explained the price range from as low as $40.00 to a high of over $1,000.00. Again, these can be found in auctions, EBay and through fellow collectors. I reminded them, that they should be kept in their original boxes and in a smoke free environment. I mentioned that the yearly Christmas edition will be out in stores soon and that it was a CTC 100th Anniversary vehicle.

The next subject was the gift cards. I told them, of all the collectables, this was the least expensive to get into, as the cards could be obtained free at CTC stores. Their expense would be for binders, protective sleeves, and labels for identification. Values range from $1.00 - $20.00 for a rare card. A lot of the more available cards can be obtained from other collectors for free as they have extras. Other sources are auctions and EBay. I made them aware of where my source of cards are and that it was off limits.

CTC pins were another option for collecting. Some may be obtained from store employees or from other pin collectors.

The last item I spoke on was CTC memorabilia which takes in anything that has the CTC logo on it. It could be water bottles, gift card storage containers, etc. I explained that examples of all these items were on the display tables and that we would be available to answer any questions about the display items or on CTC collecting.

I showed the various catalogues and other support material to help them with their collecting. The catalogues include valuable information, suggested prices and pictures of items to aid in the identification of a particular item that they have or may acquire. In addition to the catalogues, I had with me, I told them about the other catalogues, such as Error's and Oddities and Pins.

I showed an edition of "The Collector" and made them aware of its contents from: president's messages, upcoming meetings, discoveries, member articles, a club auction, and a classified section. I explained that it was generated 4 times a year and that members were encouraged to write articles and utilize the classifieds to buy that needed item and sell or trade their extras.

THANKS, Stew, for promoting our club in your region. If you know of any collectors' clubs in your region, feel free to ask and do a talk on Canadian Tire collectables. If you need material for a presentation, we can help. If you want to host a virtual session, we can arrange for such an event.

MONTREAL MEETING – NOVEMBER 5TH 2022

by Michel Cadieux - M0001015 - mcadieux.bap@videotron.ca

At our last meeting of 2022, at our usual location, the Roussin Community Center in Pointe-aux-Trembles, 13 members were present. We had the pleasure of welcoming three members from Ontario, one member from New-Brunswick and one member from as far away as Alberta. They had the great idea of combining their visit to our meeting with the Nu-philex show in Montreal.

Between 1 and 2 p.m. the members discussed and proceeded with some wheeling and dealing. We had the opportunity to see the brand new $100 Canadian tire coupon that Jerome had brought. The members present were able to examine and appreciate the auction items that were to start as a mail-bid auction and was to terminate at the meeting.

The meeting started at 2 p.m. and was moderated in English by our director James Williston of Alberta and in French by myself. James kindly volunteered to chair the meeting while I volunteered to assist with the translation. We messed up a bit, but we still went through the articles from the last newsletter. We then talked about the new membership rates to come and the last chance to renew in order to obtain the color paper newsletters. In the article dealing with the 2022 elections, we announced the candidacy of Daniel Cryans for the position of Director for Quebec. We would now be down to three directors with Michel Cadieux and Jerome Fourre. This is very good news for Quebec with one more director position to fill.

Jerome followed up with the presentation of his long-awaited CTCC Educational Report featuring the latest coupon, gift card and die-cast vehicle issues. We could see there, among other things, the five new vehicles of the 2022 Jumpstart series that were being issued.

The door prizes draws, and the half and half draw took place. The two door prizes, two die-cast vehicles, were oddly won by Daniel Cryans and Lise Barrette our couple from Trois-Rivières while Charles Barrette walked away with half and half for a total of $28.50.

After a short break, it was now time for our auction donated by member #162, Georges Dube, and led by Jerome. There were a few hard-fought fights for the 3 Christmas LPs, all won by James Williston, there were several lively one-ups. Congratulations to all the auction winners who allowed the Club to raise a net profit of $66.50.

Our meetings are important for discussing, sharing our experiences, and keeping abreast of new developments. The pandemic has been hard on social life and meeting attendance at many clubs and organizations. Let's get out of this mindset and make 2023 a year of coming back strong with rewarding gatherings.

I really looking forward to seeing you again in 2023 at our January 21st meeting in Montreal.

I really hope that you have a great holiday season.

NOVA SCOTIA MEETING NOVEMBER 26TH, 2022

by Stew Cameron – M0000838 – scotiatechstew@gmail.com

The final Nova Scotia Canadian Tire Collector Club meeting for 2022 was held on 26 November at the home of Margaret and Stew Cameron. Attending were Dave Dick, Jim Atwell, Jim Galley, Margaret, and Stew Cameron. Notable absentees were Mike Hackett, Bob Ronan, and Cathy Dick (our photographer).

Welcome

The meeting opened at 1:42 PM with a welcome to the members. A special welcome to new member, Jim Atwell. As always Timbits and beverages were served. An agenda for the meeting was handed out and followed.

Show and Tell

Dave Dick made a purchase in the last Private Auction. He keeps eyeing the Jumpstart Box at the end of the checkout counters, wondering what notes may be inside. He also mentioned his continuous interest in the prefixes of the 5¢ and 10¢ CTC money. It was mentioned that the end has come for the possibility of any new prefixes with the last date print in 2019. Jim Atwell our new member, is also a coin collector and member of the Windsor Regional Coin Club. He informed us that, on occasion, he has asked the clerk at the checkout if he could exchange notes for those in the Jumpstart Box and was able to do so. This information was of particular interest to Dave, who will, in all probability, see if he can do the same at his chosen CTC store. Jim started his CTC collection in 2019 after hearing about the Canadian Tire Collector Club at a presentation for the Windsor Regional Coin Club. This was presented in September 2019 by Mike Hackett and myself. Jim has collected many CTC notes and coins. We are trying to raise his interest in collecting gift card.

Jim Galley has started organizing the gift cards he received from Bob Ronan. He is still working on the FA Series and progressing along. He has also dropped a hint; that he would like to get the Series 6, No.5 truck for this year, as a Christmas gift. Hopefully by the time this article is read, he was successful. Margaret Cameron was happy to see the members and expressed her enjoyment in hosting the meetings. She ensured that the Timbits were of good quality and that members had their beverages. She is pleased to host meetings in 2023.

Stew Cameron continues to improve his collections by acquiring gift cards at his chosen CTC store. He has improved his CTC money collection through the club and private auctions. He is involved in updating Michel Cadieux's gift card lists with new High and Low numbers. He has picked up many items from the CTC store with the CTC 100 logo.

New Business

The editor of our Collector newsletter, Jacques Poitras, was looking for ads and articles and encouraged the members to participate.

I thanked Jim Galley for finding a new member and asked that the members try to find additional members in 2023. We would like to see our area club membership increase.

I passed on information about the CTC S35-H, 100$ note. I explained where they may find one and that approximately 5,000 were printed.

We discussed the meeting dates for 2023. They are as follows: March 11th, June 3rd, September 2nd and November 4th. These are tentative and subject to change. Updates will be provided as necessary. All meetings are currently scheduled to be held at the home of Margaret and Stew Cameron.

The next subject was on our involvement at the Canadian Tire meeting as part of the RCNA Convention being held in Halifax in 2023, I told the members that I was looking for assistance in the organizing of our event as well as items that can be placed in the "Member Handout Bags". I am looking for members that can provide presentations concerning items that we collect. The speakers can be members from outside our area and I encourage them to participate in this event if attending. I have asked the Manager at the CTC store that I deal with if he could speak on his career with Canadian Tire Corporation. I have not got a commitment yet. Anyone wishing to speak on CTC related topics, please contact me.

I have designed, with assistance from another member, a note commemorating this meeting. It will be available in the "Member Handout Bags". A similar "Specimen" note will also be available and for sale by the CTCC club. There will be minimum printing of these notes so don't miss out.

Last under "New Business" was a presentation of the November-2022 Educational Report. This drew a lot of interest and follow up questions.

Open Discussions

For all members. A chance to speak on subjects unrelated to CTC collecting.

Swap, Buy, Trade and Sell

Jim Galley and Jim Atwell made purchases of Gas Bar and Lubratorium notes for their collections. Thank you both for your purchases.

Two draws were held. The winners for this meeting were Dave Dick and Jim Atwell. I would like to thank Don Bradt and Ghislaine Memme for the die-cast trucks. Our photographer, Cathy Dick, was not available, so Margaret, who is missing in the shot, took the meeting picture. The meeting closed at 3:40 PM. The 2023 meetings will be listed in the Newsletter. Please use this valued section for your meeting plans. Our meetings are open to all members, who may be visiting our area.

People in our area who would like to become a member, please contact Stew. My contact information is on Page 2 of the Collector Newsletter under the Atlantic Directors.

Lucky winners - Dave Dick and Jim Atwell.

Although Canadian Tire has not been issuing their iconic paper money since the beginning of the pandemic, they have never stopped issuing their “electronic” money. The last printing of the paper money was in 2019 for the nickels, dimes and quarters. In August of 2021 the stores were given the green light to accept the paper money from their customers once again. Not all stores started this practice at that time, some just recently started in October 2022.

For their 100th anniversary they got a very beautiful $100.00 note made up in 2022. The official word from the corporation was that 5,000 were printed by Canadian Banknote, their official printer since 2002 when British American Bank Note dropped out of the picture.

As you can see from the note shown above, they went over 5,000. Having worked for several printers over the years (from 1985 to 2005), I know that all printers have the right to overprint, deliver and invoice their client for an extra 10% of an order. This would mean that the original order may have been for 5,000 notes but the actual shipment may have been closer to 5,500 notes. This also explains series CTC S34 10¢ for the 150th anniversary of Canada where the actual quantity went over the 2,000,000 ordered and the highest notes were used as insert replacements. Might there be some notes used as insert replacements in the CTC S35-H series?

As for the actual note, the small black nine-digit serial number starts with “2022” and is printed twice on the back, once vertically on the left and once horizontally on the top right side. These coupons use paper with fluorescent blue planchets on the back and front and a watermark pattern of Canadian Tire triangles.

There is fluorescent background printing on the front and back used as security devices. Shown above are the designs that can only be seen with a blacklight.

For the front of the note there is a 100th logo with the triangle to the left printed in red florescent ink and the phrase “CELEBRATING 100 YEARS FÊTONS 100 ANS” diagonally across the note starting in green and red in the center going back to green on the right with a redish gold maple leaf embossed with “100” in a wave pattern on the right near the top. The front of the note has the signatures on the left side and the denomination on the bottom right side.

The back of the note has a picture of Martha Billes (owner of CTC) on the top right, scenes of the Jumpstart program in the center of the note and the date on the left side near the serial number. The florescent printing on the back has the 100 logo across the entire note starting in green going to red and back to green. The scenes visible on the back are also repeated in the florescent ink, with a city scene on the left and the Rocky Mountains on the right and several fireworks burst across the note.

The primary colour of the note is different shades of burgundy. The signatures are Gregory Craig, CFO and Greg Hicks, CEO. The notes are the same size as all CT notes of the store series: 5.5” wide by 2.625” high, with no expiry date.

THIN SERIAL NUMBERS ON 30¢ GAS BAR NOTES

Two G07-F-G1 - "Thin" 30¢ notes

I recently acquired the top 30¢ note. When I was placing it with the other 30¢ note in my collection, I noticed that the entire serial number was a lot thinner than my original note.

The "0" and the "8" were the two obviously thinner numbers. Maybe you wish to have a closer look at your hoard and see if you notice any differences like I found on mine.

WHY I WILL NOT RENEW MY MEMBERSHIP!

by Tom Reid M0000688 - tc Reid@sympatico.ca

Last year when I sent in my money, I had stated that the senior members needed to start approaching Canadian Tire executives about starting to give out the Canadian Tire money at the stores again. Well as far as I can tell there has been no action taken. The club executives have failed to act or at least failed to talk about it in public. There has been no Canadian Tire money given out in Kingston for over two years. I have stopped shopping there and will stop supporting the club. That is why I will not renew my membership. Thank you for your time.

Last year a note similar to this one from this member and a new one this year challenged us, but it must be said that we have no power over what the Canadian Tire Corporation decides. Note that in the beginning of the Canadian Tire Corporation, the policy was, according to the Billes brothers, that the coupon encouraged customers to come back to Canadian Tire, so it's a shame that some members can react in this way. We cannot interfere in the decisions taken by a Company established for 100 years.

THE LADY, OR THE SCOTSMAN? A TALE OF TWO VIGNETTES

by Don Roebuck CM0000848

Who created the Scotsman now known as Sandy McTire, and how did he come to be on the Canadian Tire coupons? There are several stories — “legends” might be a better word — that bear on these questions, and they can not all be true, at least at the same time.¹

But there is one thing about Sandy McTire’s origins that is beyond dispute: that he was engraved by the British American Bank Note Company’s C. Gordon Yorke.² In support of this, I would cite the Sandy McTire engraving, signed “G. Yorke,” that is reproduced in the second edition of the Charlton catalogue of Canadian Tire coupons (Fig. 1³). And it has also been reported that when Yorke was the guest of honour at the 1976 Canadian Paper Money Society convention, “he had a large photo of Sandy McTire . . . prominently displayed. This was another of his engraving achievements. He was quite proud of it.”⁴

Now for the stories. I shall begin with one that was told by A.J. Billes, Canadian Tire’s co-founder and second president:

*We chose the Scotsman because Scottish people are known for their saving and frugality, and that’s what our coupons are all about.*⁵

The problem with this story is not in what it literally says, but in the impression, it gives: that someone at Canadian Tire came up with the idea of putting a Scotsman on the coupons, because the Scots had a reputation for frugality, and that the company then passed this idea on to BABN. And it gives this impression by leaving out some other information, which I shall supply in a moment.

This story (or to be precise, this impression) is consistent with another story: that the original artwork for Sandy McTire was done by Canadian Tire’s in-house artist Bernie Freedman. The most elaborate version of this story is the one in the Canadian Tire corporate history Our Store:

*The store ‘Money’ featured the immortal Sandy McTire, as drawn by Canadian Tire artist Bernie Freedman. With his ruddy complexion, thick upturned moustache, and jaunty tam-o’-shanter, Sandy was the very picture of robust good cheer. With a few strokes of the pen, Freedman created an archetype of a genial bargain hunter and a potent symbol for the retailer’s central message: discerning buyers, Scotsmen or not, know Canadian Tire’s the place to shop.*⁶

But there is another story, which supplies the information that was missing from the first one, in another Canadian Tire corporate history, Living the Canadian Dream:

The banknote company recalls Martha Billes [A.J.’s daughter, and now the controlling shareholder], “said we had to get plates. Plates were awfully expensive, and we always did everything on the cheap. Surely somewhere there were rejects. There were two plates that were perhaps suitable. One was the goddess Diana with two or three wolfhounds. She was nude from the waist up with flying scarves across the appropriate places. She would have been perfect for a stock certificate of the era, which was probably what she’d been for.

“The other one was a Scotsman with a hat on. These plates, and pictures printed from them, were circulated around. My mother thought that a Scotsman was terrible because there was no Scots blood in the Billes family.

But corporate decided it was going to be the Scotsman.”⁷

And this last story can be supplemented by yet another, from Ian Brown’s Freewheeling:

*A.J. originally wanted an engraving of the goddess Diana, semi-nude, pursued by three dogs, because he thought that would appeal more to Canadian Tire’s male clientele, but Muriel [A.J.’s wife] nixed the idea.*⁸

So now we can reconstruct what may actually have happened: BABN suggested two vignettes, Diana and the Scotsman. Diana got nixed, and that left the Scotsman. And at some point — it might even have been after Canadian Tire placed the order with BABN — someone realized that the Scotsman made sense, because the Scots, in those days, had a reputation for frugality.

In any case, I believe I have found the Diana vignette: in Gene Hessler’s The International Engraver’s Line, in the article on the engraver Harry Preston Dawson (Figure 2 next page)⁹. It fits Martha Billes’ description in every detail. Hessler says that it was intended for use on a stock certificate. And Dawson worked for several U.S. companies, but also for BABN.¹⁰

(A word to the wise: Diana was the goddess not only of wild nature but also of chastity. She kept company with untamed young women and would have nothing to do with men. According to Ovid, a young hunter by the name of Actaeon accidentally saw her when she was bathing, and she was so offended that she changed him into a stag, and he was torn to pieces by his own hounds.)

So now we know something else about Sandy McTire: since the die for the Scotsman was one of those that BABN had on hand, it could not have been based on artwork by Mr. Freedman. So, we still don’t know who did the original artwork for the Scotsman — or, for that matter, for Diana and those three elegant hounds.

Notes:

1- Having multiple (and incompatible) origins is more characteristic of ancient gods and heroes than of corporate trademarks. And Sandy McTire’s public relations function on the Canadian Tire coupons is similar to that of the deities and personifications on the reverse of Roman coins. (On a Roman coin, Sandy McTire would be Frugalitas, the personification of thrift, and his attribute would be the tam-o’-shanter.)

2- Yorke's engravings include, on the Bank of Canada issue of 1954, the forest scene on the $5; and, on the issue of 1969—79, the logging scene on the $1, the Inuit hunting scene on the $2, the Laurier portrait on the $5, and the Borden portrait and the harbour scene on the $100.

7- Daniel Stoffman, Living the Canadian Dream: How Canadian

(Did A.J. really think that Diana would be the better choice, or was this just a bit of laddish humour? Brown quotes Walter Muncaster, a Canadian Tire dealer and the father of Dean Muncaster, Canadian Tire's third president, as saying (p. 120), "A.J. was okay until he thought he had a better idea than you had. But on the other hand, you never knew if he was kidding.")

9- Gene Hessler, The International Engraver's Line (Cincinnati, 2005), p. 70.

10- Dawson's engravings for BABN include, on the Bank of Canada issue of 1935, the portrait of Edward, Prince of Wales and the allegory on the $5, and the portrait of Princess Mary and the allegory on the $10; and, on the issue of 1954, the rural scene on the $2 and the mountain scene on the $10.

GIFT CARD ANOMALIES

by Fred White - M0000900 - whitef@queensu.ca

I don't know if anyone has seen this in their area, this was found in Kingston. Sandy Lipin and I were finding these cards all over Kingston, mainly in the grocery stores.

I wonder what is happening at Allcard, did they have cartons left over from the 0721 batch of cards and decided to use them up in the 0222 batch.

We, as collectors pick up these cards thinking that we are getting a 0721 card as shown on the back of the card in the top left corner, but to our surprise, when we open the package, the actual gift card is a 0222 and not a 0721 card as expected.

As we know all of the FA04 "Candy Cane" cards follow the same as far as the serial number patterns go. All the $25.00 cards have the four digits after the initial 6272 numbers, 2424 as their range. The $50.00 cards have 2425 as their range. The $100.00 have 2430 as their range and the $200.00 had 2431 as their range.

I was speaking to Jerome mid-November, and he had just received a set of FA04 "Candy Cane" cards from CTC. He noticed that all the text on the back of his cards was not the same as the rest of the cards in his FA04 series where it is smooth.

The text on the back of the set he had just received was raised as if it was printed after the basic card was made up.

He also noticed that the range number for his $200.00 card was not 2431 but 2427 similar to the $200.00 in the FA04 "Wheelbarrow" series. Is it possible that his batch of cards were replacement cards??

Jerome had initially ordered a set of "Wheelbarrow" cards but they were lost in the mail. CTC sent him another set to replace the set that was lost but they were not the "Wheelbarrow" cards but this set of "Candy Cane" cards.

VARIETY WITH PINS - YEARS OF SERVICE

by Jacques Ouellette - M0000401 - jakouel@gmail.com

For those who like to collect Canadian Tire Pins like me, here's an interesting discovery.

I was going through my YS09 (Year of Service) Silver pins and noticed there were 2 types of pins for each of the 5, 10, 15 and 20 years. The pins with the manufacturer stamped "CTO" on the back have characters that are smaller (top row of pins in

If you find anything different in this group, it would be nice to know. Feel free to contact me at jakouel@gmail.com or 506-739-5416.

MORE COUNTERFEIT GIFT CARDS DETECTED IN SASKATCHEWAN

by Lou Fontaine – CM0000109 - lfontaine@shaw.ca

On July 20th, 2022, a group of 7 counterfeit gift cards were detected. These cards were used at one of the Canadian Tire stores in Saskatoon.

The counterfeit cards detected were VNR-MR (Merci), 2 of VNR-FP (Fêtes des pères), VNR-XW (Christmas Wreath), 2 of FA03-I00 and a FA05-I00.

Counterfeit – 6272 2414 1034 8088 was the number used on all these cards, totally different from the numbers used on the genuine cards.

Previous counterfeits used had a thin laminate on the reverse.

This group of cards appear to have been made with a color printer that did not require the laminate after it was printed.

The color on these cards is brighter than the normal cards and stand out when side by side with other cards of the same type.

On the FA03-I00 the code number are located on the opposite corner from where it normally is.

The code is 4006481 H 01/15 CPI on all the cards as well.

MEMBERSHIP REPORT

by Ghislaine T.-Memme - CM0000015 - therouxg@videotron.ca

Hello everyone,

The year 2022 is already over. Let's welcome 2023 with a lot of joy. Let's not forget that thank our volunteers who do their best so that the club produces an excellent newsletter with interesting and varied articles. It keeps us informed of the latest news and it makes our club meetings more interesting. In addition to these meetings, it was decided to add a meeting auction at the Montreal meetings. Hope you will be able to attend our meetings to see the nice material up for auctions.

Finances are stable, renewals are going well, three new members have been added since the last newsletter. To date we have 216 active members.

Don't forget to shop our list of items offered by the Club, earning it extra revenue, and adding new items occasionally.
